

COLORADO
Gov. John Hickenlooper

Dear International Student:

The decision about where to continue your education is a big one for you and for your family. Leaving your home country to pursue your dreams is a big step. Whatever you decide, it most certainly will be a life-changing experience.

We are pleased that you are considering Colorado for your studies. Colorado offers something for everyone: From large universities in the city to small colleges in our beautiful Rocky Mountains to advanced research opportunities and English language study. And our outdoor recreation opportunities are second to none. Students and their families come from all over the world to study at our top-rated institutions, and they find a little time on the side to hike, ski, bike, and enjoy everything else our outdoor lifestyle has to offer. People come to Colorado to discover our destinations and discover something about themselves.

All of that is available in a state that is welcoming and friendly. More than 12,000 international students a year choose Colorado. We hope you will too.

Sincerely,

John W. Hickenlooper
Governor
